

Highly experienced DTP operator required for contract work Structured FrameMaker

ITR is a highly successful and well-established translation company specialising in multilingual projects for global clients. We aim to achieve the highest standards in technical translation and to optimise the use of language technology for our customers' benefit.

Our services comprise technical translation, DTP, and the localisation of software applications and corporate websites in all major languages. We operate a sophisticated IT environment using an extensive range of software tools.

Our DTP services focus on the use of FrameMaker and InDesign. To meet our clients' needs we employ an in-house team of highly trained DTP operators complemented by a team of skilled contractors.

We would now like to expand our team of contractors and would welcome applications from professional DTP operators with in depth knowledge and proven experience of the following:

- Structured FrameMaker (including import/export to XML)
- Multilingual DTP
- Basic knowledge of .EDDs and read/write rules
- Troubleshooting invalid documents
- Knowledge of FrameScript a distinct advantage
